What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that is sent to and stored on your computer, smartphone, or other devices to access the internet whenever you visit a website, if you agree. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive. Cookies are functional because they allow the website to recognize the user's device. More information about cookies can be found on <http://www.allaboutcookies.org>

Use of cookies:

Cookies are small text files sent from a website and stored in the customer's web browser while visiting the website. Cookies can store information such as (encrypted) passwords, usernames, shopping carts, specific preferences, etc., allowing visitors to visit websites multiple times without entering the same information. We respect your privacy and all rights related to your online presence. The purpose of the company uses cookies is to collect information about visitors to the website and other services the company provides.

Privacy Policy Change:

The Company reserves the right to amend or change this Privacy Policy at any time without prior notice. If significant changes are made, the company will announce its changes by posting them on the website for public viewing.

Link:

The website may contain links to other websites on the internet. The Company is not responsible for the content of such websites or any additional security on such websites. Customers should read the terms of use and privacy statement of any website to which they may link to the company's website.

Understand how and why we use cookies

We use cookies on our website to distinguish you from other users on our website. This helps us provide you with a unique experience when you browse our website. In addition, it ensures that we improve and monitor our website's use. This Cookie Policy explains what cookies are, how we use them and the benefits they can provide. By continuing to use our website, you agree to our use of cookies on this website.

Our cookies may use the following:

Strictly necessary cookies:

These are cookies that are required for the operation of our website. For example, they include cookies that allow you to log into secure areas of our website, such as the Client Login, our Demo Account Page, or our Research Centre.

Analytics / Performance cookies:

These cookies allow us to recognize and count visitors, see how visitors move around our site as they use it, and estimate and report the total audience size and traffic. This assistance will help us improve how our website works, for example: by ensuring that users find what they are looking for easily. All information about how you use our website is collected anonymously. The service we use is Google Analytics, an analytic web service provided by Google. For more details, please visit the Security Centre. You can also watch a video about Google Analytics Cookies.

Functional cookies:

They are used to recognize you when you return to our website, complete online forms, and log onto the website. This will allow us to personalize our content for you and remember your search preferences.

Session cookies:

They are used when you are logged onto an application, and it remembers that you are logged in when you navigate the website, for example: where you register online for a Prime Quotes account. However, when you close your browser, the cookie is deleted, so when you revisit the website, you'll need to sign in again.

Third parties

Please note that third parties (including execution brokers or providers of external services such as web traffic analysis services) may also use cookies over which we may have no control. When we include links to other websites, please note that they will have their own privacy and cookie policies that will check the use of any information you submit. We recommend that you read their policies as Prime Quotes is not responsible or liable for their security operations.

User Agreement

By continuing to use our website, you consent to the placement of cookies on your device. If you choose not to receive our cookies, we cannot guarantee that your experience will be as perfect as it should be.

How to manage your cookies

The browser of most computers, smartphones and other web-enabled devices are typically set up to accept cookies. If you would like to modify your cookie preferences and block cookies for this or any other website, you can do this through your browser settings. Your browser's 'help' function will tell you how to do this.

However, keep in mind that it may affect how our website works if you choose to disable certain cookies. For example: if you refuse all cookies, you will not be able to use Prime Quotes services that require you to "log in", and you may not be able to take advantage of all services.
